Priya Kumari Launches “Leaf Talks Peace: Buddha's Message of Harmony”, a Picture Book Endorsed By The Dalai Lama

(March 08, 2022), East Brunswick, New Jersey– Leaf Talk Peace – Buddha’s Message of Harmony is the latest work of Priya Kumari, a children's book author and the founder of Eternal Tree Books. This is also the first picture book by an Indian author to be endorsed by The Dalai Lama. In the foreword, His Holiness calls it "a beautifully illustrated book that teaches children the importance of living in harmony with nature and with all forms of life."

Illustrated by Anusha Santosh, Leaf Talk Peace conveys the message of interdependent origins of life. It talks about how we all are connected to nature at the core. These messages are conveyed with an illustrated poem that seeks to introduce children to the message of the Buddha, who spread peace, love and harmony wherever he went.

The narrative of Leaf Talk Peace is about Buddha’s realization of the entire cosmos in one leaf of the Bodhi tree under which he was meditating. When asked about the book, the author said, “The objective of my book is to spread individual peace, social peace, and ecological peace while helping children observe the message of compassion and peace inherent in Nature, symbolized by a leaf”.

Priya Kumari is also the founder of Eternal Tree books, an independent publishing house that specializes in books that are inspired by Indian culture and traditions. Reputed platforms like News12, EBC radio, ITV gold, and many other podcasts and blogs have featured Priya and her work.

Leaf Talk Peace – Buddha’s Message of Harmony is a beautiful book of illustrated poems that can guide children to become responsible citizens and can instill in them the values that are required to become cooperative and compassionate global citizens. In today’s climate and fast-paced life, the book has received positive reviews and is described as a must-read book for all children.
